

IJC-FOODSEC: The New International Joint Research Center on Food Security for ASEAN region

Dr. Awanwee Petchkongkaew

Plesso delle Scienze Aula D
4 giugno 2024 – ore 11.00

Dr. Awanwee Petchkongkaew is cofounder and co-director of the International Joint Research Center on Food Security for the ASEAN region. She is also Professor at the Thammasat University, with expertise in food safety, microbiology and biotechnology.

Located in Bangkok at the BIOTECH premises, the IJC-FOODSEC is conducting highly impactful research on a range of aspects relating to ensuring the safe and sustainable production of food in the ASEAN region.